

On November 16, 2017, students of the Department of Nursing Management of the Russian Peoples Friendship University (PFUR) in Moscow, Russia this year participated in the support of the World Day of STOP bedsores, promoted by the European Advisory Group on Pressure ulcers (EPUAP). When teaching our students, the University for many years creates specific information, training and advocacy materials for nursing professionals dealing with the management of pressure sores.

Various projects - seminars, conferences, theses and training events led to the use of knowledge on bed sore problems in practical work.

Second-year students of the Sisterhood conducted an interactive seminar on the World Day of the problem of decubitus. The students were adequately trained on this issue and willingly shared their knowledge.

