

Stop pressure ulcer day, Karolinska university Hospital, Stockholm

Here is some pictures from our event – at stop pressure ulcer day – at Vårdform Solna (in Stockholm), Karolinska university Hospital. It was Eila Sterner and my colleague Susanne Öhman (staff member at Quality and patient safety department at Karolinska University Hospital) – which were hosts for the program that day. We show Christina Lindholms movie from 2012 – starts every hour and between we have this Theme “ Come and meet, squeeze, feel, test different pressure relieving products in bed and chair and take part of PUCLAS education program and learn more. We also have a small section “test to cleanse the wound” – if that participants would like to try. The day was open for everyone - care givers, patients, students, relatives
